

Maciek is two and a half years old. He loves sliding, playing with sand, the company of other children and hugging his parents. He is a big eater and loves Tom&Jerry cartoons. He is also dying. Maciek was diagnosed a year ago with the genetic disorder, called Sanfilippo syndrome (MPS III), type A.

What is the Sanfilippo syndrome?

Sanfilippo syndrome, also known as mucopolysaccharidose III (MPS III) is a very rare genetic disease occurring once in every 100 thousand births. It is caused by metabolic disorder leading to storing the sugar molecules called mucopolysaccharides that are not properly disposed of from the body.

As a result, the whole body of the child is destroyed. Over the years the life of the precious child becomes more and more restricted requiring care from the parents 24/7.

The average life of a child with MPS III lasts 14 years, however sometimes they pass away much earlier. Unfortunately there is no effective medical treatment for the Sanfilippo syndrome.

However the several treatments are being currently researched in the USA, France and Poland. Therefore parents from around the world unite in their efforts as well as look for the support to raise funds to pursue these life saving treatments. Their completion may save Maciek's life.

All affected children must go through a day-to-day very costly rehabilitation to prolong their chances to live until the cure is ready.
